

PRAISE AND PRAYER

MARCH 27, 2016

People for Prayer

Henry & Sarah Friesen
Eva & Paul Lester

Anne & George Hildebrand
Kevin & Tracy Zimmerman

Pray that throughout this Easter weekend, we might reflect on who Jesus Christ is, and better understand His sacrifice. May we seek His presence and fall on our knees before Him. May we feel the pain of His death and experience the joy of His resurrection. May we acknowledge and accept His gift of salvation, and give thanks for His great love and sacrifice for each one of us!

Pray for the students and leaders who are participating in SOAR Mar 24 - Apr 2. Pray for unity in the team, good health, energy, rest, and for the Holy Spirit to be in and through each one as they minister. Pray for those they will encounter in their journey.

Now after the Sabbath, toward the dawn of the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary went to see the tomb. And behold, there was a great earthquake, for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven and came and rolled back the stone and sat on it. His appearance was like lightning, and his clothing white as snow. And for fear of him the guards trembled and became like dead men. But the angel said to the women, "Do not be afraid, for I know that you seek Jesus who was crucified. He is not here, for he has risen, as he said."

Matthew 28:1-6 ESV

A Further Easter Thought - adapted from Bruce Guenther

Read: Luke 24.1-12

The stunning proclamation, “He is Risen,” frantically delivered to the grief-stricken and confused apostles by the women who discovered the empty tomb on Easter morning was summarily dismissed at first as “nonsense.” With one exception: the impetuous Peter who ran to the tomb to check this story out for himself. Peter had had a very rough week - his initial refusal to allow Jesus to wash his feet, his ill-advised knife attack on Malchus, a servant of the High Priest, his emphatic and unequivocal promise to follow Jesus even to death, followed shortly after by an equally emphatic series of denials. Peter is the first apostle to think that the strange proclamation might just possibly be true, and if so, that it would truly be “good news.” Perhaps it was fitting that Peter was the first apostle to meet the risen Lord.

It is hard to imagine the impact of such an incredulous announcement on these first-century women and men, as their dazed disbelief, shock and anxiety was gradually transformed into amazement, hope and the realization that they had witnessed the most momentous event in human history ever to warrant the description of “epic” and “awesome.”

The ecstatic proclamation, “He is Risen,” first made by the women to the gathered apostles, and later boldly declared by Paul to countless others throughout the Mediterranean basin, has for two millennia been repeated by Christian communities around the world, and now belongs to us.

How do we recognize that we have seen the Lord, how have we been transformed by our encounter with Jesus Christ, and how do we now make this glorious truth known to those around us?
